Debbie Bushell

Debbie Bushell is known to entertain an audience with up-to-date information, whilst offering ideas to support parents during the various stages of adolescent development. She is a respected parenting specialist, resilience coach for teenagers, author and the founder of Parent Teen Matters. Debbie has presented on hundreds of topics across Australia to parents, students and professionals who work with children. She is a regular fortnightly guest on Perth’s 6PR. Debbie holds a Master of Education in School Leadership, a Bachelor of Education, and is one of a handful of coaches worldwide with an internationally recognised qualification in Parent Coaching. Debbie is the proud parent of four amazing teens.
Details of the Conference:

The Conference will be held at Tranby College in our newly completed Senior School Administration Building.

Featuring two outstanding nationally recognised speakers, the Conference will focus on topics for parents of children of all ages.

The day will be fully catered and will be an opportunity to listen to some of the leading voices on issues such as resilient kids, raising kids in the tricky years, teenagers, boys and cybersafety. Tickets are $20 and are available by contacting Mrs Faye Capewell on 9523 3145. For more information on these presenters go to the links below:

- Michael Grose—Parenting Ideas

- Debbie Bushell—Parent Teen Matters

Michael Grose is one of Australia’s most popular parenting and educational presenters. Michael is the author of 8 parenting books, including his new release 'Thriving!' and the best-selling 'Why First Born's Rule the World and Last Born's Want to Change It'. He has conducted over 1,500 parenting seminars over the last two decades. He is the Director of Parentingideas, Australia’s leading provider of parenting resources for schools. He is the author of 8 parenting books and also appeared as a regular on Channel 9's Today Show and Channel 10's 9AM.